EOP COUNSELOR

Why did you become a counselor for EOP?
As a former EOP student I wanted to give back to the organization that played an instrumental role in my own success as a student and as a professional. I've been blessed to come back and help other students succeed just as my counselors helped me succeed.

What did you do before EOP?
Before joining the EOP team, I worked for a short time with San Bernardino County, and before that I worked as a middle school counselor.

What are some of your hobbies and interests?
I love to go to Disneyland and Disney’s California Adventure. I can never get enough of the Hollywood Tower of Terror and the Haunted Mansion. When I’m not at Disney I like to read and hang out with my friends.

If you could pick anywhere, where would you pick as your next travel destination?
I’d love to go to Central America, especially El Salvador, Costa Rica and Guatemala. These are countries filled with a rich history and culture, beautiful beaches and lots of sun! I'd love to experience it firsthand.

What would you like our students to know about you?
I'm a down to earth person who is willing to help others be successful in life.

If you had one piece of advice for our students, what would it be?
Don't ever let fear paralyze you from pursuing your dreams. Convert that fear into courage to fulfill your dream. Never give up, study hard, ask for help, and never stop learning.

What is your favorite quote?
“We can do no great things, only small things with great love.”
– Mother Teresa

“I would rather die on my feet than live a lifetime on my knees.”
– Emiliano Zapata

Every quarter, many of you come to see us because you have expenses that you can’t cover and you don’t know what to do. Yet, when we review your financial aid package, you received substantial refund money that is now gone. For many of you, when you enter college and receive offers of grants and loans, you have thousands of dollars at your disposal for the first time in your life. Thoughts start racing through your head about the millions of things you could do with this money.

However, it is important that you spend your money wisely. Here are some tips to help you survive CSUSB without going into debt:

1. Accept loans as a last resort! Seek out grants, scholarships, and work study first, as you don’t need to pay these back and do not build debt.
2. Save your refunds for a rainy day! Don’t go on a shopping spree; be smart and stash away your refunds for those school emergencies that WILL come up.
3. Avoid credit card solicitations! The average credit card debt of college students is staggering; avoid getting a credit card even though it can be easily tempting.
4. Be textbook smart! Get your textbook list early so that you have time to shop around for the best prices!
5. Budget. When money is tight, you have to learn to budget. You must plan for meals, school-related expenses, transportation, entertainment and emergencies. Also, avoid eating out for the convenience factor and you will be amazed at how much you save.
6. Complete your FASFA in January! Don’t get blinded by the March 2 priority deadline! By March 2, many scholarships, grants, and work study awards are already gone!
7. Ask for help! Your counselors have a lot of experience in this area, so don’t be afraid to ask.

EOP Student Spotlight: Justine Plemons
President, Associated Students, Inc. (ASI)

When Justine began attending CSUSB in September 2006, she had absolutely no interest in being involved in student organizations or the campus community; she simply wanted to earn her degree. However, she soon realized that since she was going to be here for awhile, she wanted something more. Since 2006, Justine has been involved in the campus community in a variety of ways. She has participated in student employment on campus, was the chair of the Recreational Sports committee for two years, is a sister of Alpha Delta Pi, and is a part of the Lambda Pi Eta (an honor society for Communication Studies). Additionally, Justine became a committee member for Associated Students, Inc. (ASI) during her sophomore year, shortly thereafter became a board member, and is now serving as the ASI president.

Justine began her term as president of ASI on July 1, 2010. This was a huge accomplishment, as ASI has not had a female president for the past 11 years and she won the election as a write in candidate, which is a very rare feat. Justine describes her experience as president as “very busy, but very good.” She stated that her executive team has worked extremely hard to affect change on campus, and is very proud to have created a better rapport between ASI and the campus community at large. Overall, she feels that her positions have truly helped prepare her for life after graduation. Justine stated that her involvement on campus “has made campus a place I want to come to, not I place I have to come to.”

When asked about advice she would like to share with fellow students, “Get involved because you will be here for 4-6 years and you might as well get comfortable. If you see something you don’t like, take the initiative to change it, because talking about it alone is not going to do anything.” However, Justine did caution that students should not get involved too soon. She recommends that students be sure that they know how to balance work, grades, and extracurricular activities, because without this balance, the extra stuff can quickly drown students.

Justine’s major is communication with emphases in mass communication and human communication. She has a 3.6 GPA, is graduating in spring 2011, and is currently applying to graduate schools. Justine’s goal is to become an educational counselor for an Educational Opportunity Program and she also has aspirations to eventually become the director of EOP. Justine is very proud of her accomplishments at CSUSB. “I’m living proof that you can do it all! You can get good grades, have a great social life, and be a good leader on campus too!”
